49 Stat. 3198; Treaty Series 891

The United States of America and the Republic of San Marino, being desirous of enlarging the list of crimes on account of which extradition may be granted under the Convention concluded between the United States of America and San Marino on January 10, 1906,<sup>1</sup> with a view to the better administration of justice and the prevention of crime within their respective territories and jurisdictions, have resolved to conclude a Supplementary Convention for this purpose and have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries:

The President of the United States of America, Cordell Hull, Secretary of State of the United States of America; and

The Captains-Regent of the Republic of San Marino, J. Robert Hewitt, Consul General of the Republic of San Marino in the city of New York, and Count Alfonso Facchetti Guiglia, Counselor of the Republic of San Marino;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, which were found to be in due and proper form, have agreed to and concluded the following articles:

ARTICLE I

The following crimes are added to the list of crimes numbered 1 to 14 in Article II of the said Convention of January 10, 1906, on account of which extradition may be granted, that is to say:

15. Crimes and offenses against the laws for fraudulent bankruptcy and those of fraud or breach of guaranty by a banker, agent, factor, trustee,
